ELEKTRICITY WILL KEEP ME WARM

Woken

I wanna wake up with the birds
Be welcomed into their home
Half of me is dry and half swimming out to sea
Half filled up and half alone

Puzzled

How can I keep myself in one piece
Trying out my body's power
You couldn't be what we wanted you to be
But electricity will keep me warm

I wanted so to be your hummingbird
When I know I can have all of you
But now the garden gate's not open
I don't think I can get through

Lying beside you sometimes I see stars
I start to hover, floating away
Uncreated worlds slowly approaching
I am cold and I am brave

Regarding the work/love ratio
I've found that, instead of feeling torn:
Darling, there's no need to worry
'cause electricity will keep me warm

METEORITES

Don't know where you're from but I know you've come far

Look at your eyes, they're meteorites
Maybe we're meant to crash from the sky
To meet eye to eye like meteorites

You're rushing through the darkness
With a tail of fire
I was just gonna leave here
But something changed my mind

Will curiosity kill me
When meteors hit the ground
How can I escape now
I see craters all around

In my laboratory
I study the matter
Supernatural force
I keep putting my shield up
I keep reading the small print

One speeding star!

Don't know where you're from but I know you've
come far
Look at your eyes, they're meteorites
Maybe we're meant to crash from the sky
To meet eye to eye like meteorites

Don't know where you're from but I know you've
come far
Look at your eyes, they're meteorites
Maybe we're meant to crash from the sky
To meet eye to eye like meteorites

Am I just a spectator
In this meteoric game
If I blink I might miss you
And it's driving me insane

You win, thumbs up, hands down
Do your art to me
Don't tell me what's possible
Just meteor shower me

From my observatory
I study the data
Elemental force
Switch off the force field
Downgrade my defences

One speeding star

Don't know where you're from but I know you've
come far
Look at your eyes, they're meteorites
Maybe we're meant to crash from the sky
To meet eye to eye like meteorites

Don't know where you're from but I know you've
come far
Look at your eyes, they're meteorites
Maybe we're meant to crash from the sky
To meet eye to eye like meteorites

Don't know where you're from but I know you've
come far
Look at your eyes, they're meteorites
Maybe we're meant to crash from the sky
To meet eye to eye like meteorites

FAULT LINES

Buried deep beneath the ground
Out of sight and out of sound
One day it will appear

Here's the richest vein of love
I didn't think before I dug
I hit the fault line instead

Fault lines joining you and me
So far below the sea
A rock fall has occurred
Fault lines running through our lives
Tectonic love collides
Shakes us to the ground

I excavated all I could
It was the end for me and you
Sustained eruptions in my mind

There's no point in taking sides
When fault lines come apart
Both sides slip away

Fault lines, I can hear the sound
Of earthquakes all around
As one by one the statues fall
Fault lines drawn up in the sand
Now slipping through my hands
As grain by grain time slips away

ROUND THE WORLD IN A DAY

'Round the world in a day
No rain on this parade
Better keep to the side
I'll let nothing get in my way

Turning left and away
Leaving the hurting at bay
Darling I'm so sorry
That I had to leave you today

A belief is not the truth
But I believe I can make it through Escaping bitterness
Towards the orange and red
Heading to the west, Has gotten to my head

As I move forward
Narrow becomes broad
Heaviness is turning light
Wrong is turning right

Nothing's more or less true
Just farther away from you
Going to the west, Is me trying my best
Gotta get away from you
The grieving that I'd turned to Gotta do what I can do, To open up anew

Heading for the west - Naked or overdressed
Put life to the test - Crying on request
Going to the west - God, I feel blessed
Going to join the rest

Heading for the west - Even if it means
Put life to the test - I'll go down with the rest
Going to the west - Never be the same
Going to join the rest

'Round the world in a day
No rain on this parade
Better keep to the side
I'll let nothing get in my way
Heading left and away
Yeah I'm coming to play
Who knows if I'll ever find Somewhere I wanna stay

LOVE THE SILENCE

I would scream if I thought I had a voice
You wouldn't hear me cause you're deep into the movement
and I keep silent

I had a dream I was in my old house
So full of people that the floor started shaking
I kept silent

I would bleed if I could, to stop the noise
The room so crowded they were hanging from the ceiling
Love the silence

Don't say a word
Help my eyes so I can see in colour
Hold my hand, make it seem there's nothing wrong
Don't say a word
Make the warriors put down their bow & arrow
Make their leader escape, make them surrender

I'm afraid, afraid you won't understand
They're speaking a long-forgotten language
And I keep silent

Can you see how the floor starts giving in It means it's time for a new generation born in silence

Don't say a word
Help my eyes so I can see in colour
Hold my hand, make believe we're alone
Don't say a word
Make the warriors put down their bow & arrow
Make their leader escape, make them surrender

I want to wake up
Without you I don't think I'll recover
Hold my hand, don't know how to be alone
Tell me, silence
Who's the real me, now that I've become another
Irretrievable child that needs a brother

INVISIBLE WORLDS

Beneath us explosions as we're going up
Dreamy expectations no longer tied up
We're dreaming the dream of the ideal love
So these are the fireworks they're speaking of

Let's enter the race
No beginning, no end
Separate meeting points
No damage to mend

The party is over and all is consumed
Fall back on our destiny – deflated balloons
A suddenly broken leap of faith
Avoiding the promises, I'd rather not wait

Let's enter the race
No beginning, no end
Separate meeting points
No damage to mend

Look at us building invisible walls
Do you really believe that they will protect us at all?
Go on, enter the bubble, the invisible world
Living the dogma, repeating the words

Let's enter the race
No beginning, no end
Separate meeting points
No damage to mend

I'd like to thank my beautiful family for putting up with the thumping bass coming through the floor for months on end. The Lady Colminator, The Chairman & The Secretary General, I am privileged to share my life with you. Elsa, it has been a revelation working with you, thank you for all the time and hard work you have put into this album. Writing songs has never been this much fun before! Chris, Tom, Matt, Zac, Ash, Edgar, Josh, Belinda & Will at Hospital Records for the lols and for simply being the best in the business. Trickartt for being a visual genius - when's your first children's book going to be ready?! Lou, Claire & Tom at the Coda agency for not dropping me while i took over a year off DJing to make this record. Urbanspectacles.com for making lovely glasses! All the talented software designers who make it possible to make records like this: Steinberg, Izotope, Audio Damage, Line 6, Arturia, Melodyne. My fellow artists on Hospital who continually inspire, confound and entertain me: The Byrdman, Link Contrast, the Nulogic twins, Matus B complex, Boris Netsky, Alex Bop, Seva Unquote, Joe Syntax, Jon Wrec, Alvin AD, Dom Dynamite and the most recent members of this club Reini and Markus aka Camo & Krooked. All the promoters worldwide who continue to take risks because they love Drum and Bass music. Finally a massive hug for all the crews who come out to raves and are a part of the Hospitality family, and for everyone who supports music by buying it and not stealing it.
